binoy .a. thacker

an enthusiastic mind always keen to explore things with a creative approach. from childhood always eager to learn new things practically. my interest and belief about learning is through practical experience and not just from books. i do not fear failure it is part of the progress, its better when we succeed, but the best success experience is when you overcome your own fears and failures.

I am a fourth year architecture student at Dr. D Y Patil College Of Architecture. During my studies, I have worked on multiple individual and group projects at student as well as professional level, which has trained me to function productively in paced and dead-line-driven environments.

On top of my education, I have also been associated as an intern architect at Kalakruti Engineers for the last one and half years. Till now I have worked on over 20+ projects and been part of designing multiple commercial, residential, and recreational projects, and I was engaged in delivering 3d renders, planning, interior design, and site executions as well.
